HONOURING TRADITION • SHARING KNOWLEDGE • BUILDING COMMUNITY

A LETTER

FROM THE FOUNDER

Bless up,

Every cup of tea tells a story.

Long before herbal teas found their place on supermarket shelves, plants were being cultivated, gathered and shared within families and communities across Africa and the Caribbean. Their value wasn't measured by trends or marketing—it was carried through lived experience, passed from one generation to the next.

As life became faster, much of that everyday knowledge became harder to find. Stories faded, traditions changed and simple practices that once connected people to nature were often overlooked.

RastaRoots was created from a desire to reconnect with those roots.

Not to recreate the past, but to honour it.

The Herbal Library is our commitment to preserving and sharing knowledge about the plants that have shaped cultures, kitchens and daily rituals for generations. Every guide is carefully researched to combine traditional heritage with modern understanding, presented in a way that encourages curiosity rather than certainty.

Throughout this guide you'll discover the stories behind eight remarkable herbs that feature across the RastaRoots Discovery Collection. You'll learn where they come from, how they have traditionally been used, what they contribute to flavour and aroma, and what current research is exploring today.

This is only the beginning.

As the library grows, so will this collection of field guides—building a lasting resource for anyone who wants to reconnect with nature, culture and the simple ritual of slowing down.

Thank you for being here at the beginning.
I hope this guide inspires you to brew slowly, stay curious and never lose your roots.

FOUNDER'S NOTE

Knowledge becomes most valuable when it is shared with respect. This guide is offered as an educational resource and is not intended to replace professional medical advice or treatment.

“The future grows stronger when we remember where we came from.”

RESPECT NATURE
The earth provides everything we need.

PRESERVE KNOWLEDGE
We learn, research and share to keep wisdom alive.

HONOUR HERITAGE
We honour the ancestors by remembering and respecting our traditions.

BUILD COMMUNITY
We grow stronger together, creating a healthier future for all.

OUR ROOTS

ONE HERITAGE. MANY JOURNEYS.
ONE PURPOSE.

The plants in this library come from a rich and ancient heritage that spans continents.

Across Africa and the Caribbean, generations built deep relationships with the natural world. They studied the seasons, honoured the land and used plants as part of everyday life—for food, for wellness, for ceremony and for community.

Through resilience, migration and cultural exchange, these traditions travelled across oceans, took root in new lands and continued to evolve.

Today, we honour that legacy by preserving the knowledge, sharing it with respect and making it relevant for modern living.

Different lands. Shared wisdom. One connection.

This is the heritage that inspires RastaRoots.

UNITED KINGDOM

A modern home for our roots. Growing community, sharing knowledge and building a legacy for the future.

THE CARIBBEAN

Where traditions blended with culture, creativity and resilience—creating new expressions of ancient wisdom.

AFRICA

The birthplace of countless plants, traditions and ancient knowledge passed down through generations.

“From the earth came our science.
From the people came our wisdom.
From the roots came our strength.”

AFRICA

A deep connection to the land where plants are more than resources—they are relatives.

THE CARIBBEAN

A fusion of African, Indigenous, European and Asian influences that created powerful new traditions.

UNITED KINGDOM

A place of opportunity to grow, educate and build a healthier future for our communities.

OUR GUIDING ROOTZ

RESPECT NATURE

The earth provides everything we need. We honour it, protect it and give thanks.

PRESERVE KNOWLEDGE

We learn, document and pass down knowledge so it is never lost and continues to evolve.

HONOUR HERITAGE

We honour the ancestors by remembering and respecting our traditions and their wisdom.

BUILD COMMUNITY

We grow stronger together. We share, support and create a healthier future for all.

LIVE INTENTIONALLY

Through daily rituals and mindful choices, we reconnect with what truly matters.

THE FIVE RITUALS

A DAILY RETURN TO BALANCE

Rituals help us slow down, reconnect and live with intention.

These five simple practices are inspired by nature, tradition and the rhythms of everyday life.

They are not rules — they are reminders.

Use them as a guide. Adapt them to your life.

Let each cup bring you closer to balance, clarity and connection.

"Ritual is the bridge between where you are and where you want to be."

— RASTARROOTS

*Small moments.
Powerful shifts.
Stronger you.*

RISE

BEGIN WITH INTENTION

Start your day with gratitude and a moment of stillness. Set your intention and prepare your mind for the day ahead.

BREW

HONOUR THE PLANTS

Prepare your tea with care. Boil slowly, steep mindfully and appreciate the plants and traditions behind every blend.

SIP

BE PRESENT

Drink slowly. Taste deeply. Let each sip ground you in the present moment and nourish your body and mind.

REFLECT

CONNECT WITH YOURSELF

Take a few moments to reflect. Journal your thoughts, express gratitude and check in with your goals.

SHARE

BUILD COMMUNITY

Share your tea. Share your knowledge. Share your journey. Together we grow stronger.

“ When we honour nature, live with intention and support each other, we create a life that is rooted, balanced and fulfilled. ”

WHY PLANTS MATTER

TRADITION. EXPERIENCE. EVIDENCE.

Plants have shaped cultures, kitchens and communities for thousands of years.

Across Africa and the Caribbean, herbal knowledge was built through generations of observation, experience and respect for nature.

Today, modern research continues to explore many of these plants, helping us understand more about their natural compounds, aromas and traditional uses.

At RastaRoots, we honour both.

We value the wisdom of tradition and the insights of science — and we share this knowledge so you can make informed choices for your everyday rituals.

*“Our ancestors observed.
They listened. They passed it down.
We continue that journey — with curiosity, respect and care.”*

*Plants are more than ingredients.
They are part of our heritage, our identity and our everyday rituals.*

A BALANCED APPROACH

This guide brings together three important perspectives so you can explore each herb with understanding.

TRADITIONAL WISDOM

Generations of use across cultures have helped people discover the many ways plants can be enjoyed as part of daily life.

This wisdom is the foundation that inspired this library.

MODERN RESEARCH

Science continues to explore the natural compounds found in plants and how they may contribute to overall wellbeing.

Research helps us learn more — and keeps the conversation evolving.

EVERYDAY RITUAL

When used thoughtfully, herbs can be part of simple, meaningful rituals that help you slow down, reconnect with nature and support a balanced lifestyle.

OUR COMMITMENT

PRESERVE KNOWLEDGE

We document and share information with care so that valuable knowledge is never lost.

HONOUR HERITAGE

We respect the cultures, traditions and communities that have kept this knowledge alive.

SHARE WITH PURPOSE

We share to educate, empower and inspire — helping more people build a deeper connection with nature.

THE EIGHT HERBS

EIGHT PLANTS. EIGHT STORIES.
ONE PURPOSE.

For generations across Africa and the Caribbean, these plants have been used in daily life — in kitchens, in ceremony and in community.

Each herb in the RastaRoots blend carries its own heritage, flavour and traditional use.

Here are the eight plants at the heart of our Discovery Collection.

This knowledge comes from tradition and early research, not from medical claims. We honour the past, stay curious and continue to learn.

GUIDED BY CURIOSITY

Modern research continues to explore the natural compounds in these plants.

BLENDED WITH PURPOSE

We select with care and blend with intention to create teas that support your ritual.

HIBISCUS / SORREL

TART. FRUITY. VIBRANT.

Hibiscus, known as sorrel in the Caribbean, has a long tradition of use as a refreshing tea drink.

Its deep red colour and tart flavour come from naturally occurring plant compounds called anthocyanins.

Enjoyed hot or cold, it has been part of celebrations, family gatherings and everyday life for generations.

ROOTED IN TRADITION

Sorrel has been enjoyed in the Caribbean for centuries. It is often prepared for festivals, special occasions and as part of family traditions passed down through generations.

WHAT RESEARCH SAYS

Modern studies explore the natural compounds found in hibiscus, including anthocyanins and organic acids. Research is ongoing to understand how these compounds can be part of a balanced lifestyle.

HOW WE USE IT

We use hibiscus for its vibrant flavour, colour and cultural significance. Blended thoughtfully with other herbs, it adds a refreshing, fruity balance to our teas.

“ Plants carry the wisdom of the earth.
When we honour them, they honour us back. ”

— RASTARROOTS

SARSAPARILLA

EARTHY. SMOOTH. RESTORATIVE.

Sarsaparilla has been used for centuries as a traditional root drink across Central and South America and the Caribbean.

Its long, woody roots create a smooth, earthy flavour that has been enjoyed in herbal drinks and tonics for generations.

Today, it remains a valued part of traditional wellness practices and continues to be explored in modern research.

WHAT RESEARCH SAYS

Modern research explores the natural compounds in sarsaparilla, including saponins and antioxidants. Studies continue to look at how these compounds may contribute to overall wellbeing.

HOW WE USE IT

We use sarsaparilla for its smooth, earthy flavour and traditional significance. Blended with other herbs, it creates a grounding, rich and restorative tea experience.

“ From deep roots come quiet strength. From tradition comes timeless wisdom. ”

— RASTARROOTS

GINGER

WARM. SPICY. UPLIFTING.

Ginger has travelled across continents for thousands of years. Valued for its warming aroma and distinctive flavour, it has been used in kitchens, ceremonies and traditional practices across Asia, Africa and the Caribbean.

Its warming character makes it a favourite in teas and blends, bringing depth, balance and a naturally uplifting touch to everyday rituals.

MORINGA

NOURISH. RESTORE. THRIVE.

Moringa is often called the “Miracle Tree” for good reason. Its leaves, seeds, and pods have nourished communities for generations across Africa and Asia.

With its vibrant green leaves, moringa is traditionally used in teas, soups and remedies to support everyday wellness.

It is valued for its rich richness in nutrients and its place in holistic living and natural traditions.

BREWING GUIDE

ROOTED RITUAL. EVERYDAY.

Brewing our herbal tea is more than making a drink it's a daily ritual of connection, wellness and intention.

Follow these simple steps to experience the full flavour and benefits of RastaRoots.

TIPS FOR THE PERFECT CUP

- Use filtered or spring water
- Brew with intention and gratitude
- Enjoy hot or iced
- Best enjoyed fresh daily

HOW TO BREW

BOIL

Boil 250ml – 300ml of fresh, filtered or spring water.

ADD

Add 1 heaped teaspoon (approx. 2–3g) of your chosen RastaRoots herbal blend.

STEEP

Steep for 7–10 minutes with the lid on to release the full flavour and properties.

STRAIN

Strain and pour into your favourite RastaRoots cup.

ENJOY

Sip slowly. Feel the difference. Live the ritual.

MAKE IT YOURS

Add honey, lemon, fresh ginger or mint to elevate flavour naturally. Enjoy it your way. Your ritual. Your rootz.

SERVING SUGGESTIONS

MORNING ENERGY

Brew strong and enjoy hot to awaken your body and mind.

AFTERNOON BALANCE

Brew medium strength for focus, clarity and steady energy.

EVENING CALM

Brew light and enjoy warm to relax, restore and prepare for rest.

BREW IT YOUR WAY

ICED TEA

Steep as normal, let cool and pour over ice. Add lemon or mint for a refreshing lift.

STRONG BREW

Use a little more herb or steam for up to 12 minutes for a bolder, more therapeutic blend.

A RITUAL OF WELLNESS

Consistency is key. Make this your daily ritual and allow nature to do what it does best—nourish, restore and uplift.
